

Neha Singh

CO-FOUNDER, CHAIRPERSON AND MANAGING DIRECTOR

Neha Singh is the Co-Founder, Chairperson and Managing Director of Tracxn, the global private market intelligence platform she co-founded in 2012 with Abhishek Goyal. She holds an MBA from Stanford University and a degree from IIT Bombay two institutions that shaped her rigorous, first-principles approach to building systems for complex, information-dense environments.

Before Tracxn, Neha was an investor at Sequoia Capital, where she evaluated hundreds of investment opportunities and developed a deep understanding of what separates signal from noise in early-stage markets. Prior to Sequoia, she was a strategy consultant at Boston Consulting Group, working across industries on high-stakes analytical and operational challenges.

Abhishek Goyal

CO-FOUNDER, VICE CHAIRMAN & EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Abhishek Goyal is the Vice Chairman and Executive Director of Tracxn, the global private market intelligence platform he co-founded alongside Neha Singh in 2012. A computer science graduate of IIT Kanpur, Abhishek brings an unusual combination of technical depth and investor intuition to the business, qualities that have shaped both the architecture of Tracxn's platform and its vision for data quality.

Before Tracxn, Abhishek was an investor at Accel Partners, where he was part of some of the firm's earliest and most consequential deals, including early-stage involvement with Flipkart and CommonFloor. His time at Accel gave him a front-row seat to how transformative companies are built, and more critically, how inadequate information often stood between investors and the right decisions.

Abhishek oversees Tracxn's product direction, data operations, and the technical foundation that makes the platform's scale and accuracy possible. He has been instrumental in building the AI-powered data engine at the core of the platform, combining machine learning with human analyst validation to produce structured, reliable intelligence at a scale no human team alone could achieve.
